

Buckman Coe

roots and soul

A voice of rare beauty with captivating songs blending folk, r&b and indie music

Buckman Coe has been creating a buzz since his recent return to the Pacific Northwest. His live shows are full of feeling, joyfulness, good humor, and the occasional handstand. Humanitarian and ecological issues are an evident passion for his music encourages social consciousness through compassionate stories of love and hope.

This past summer, Buckman played Oregon Country Fair showcasing on the main stage. At Komasket Festival he shared the stage with the Wailers and Cheb i Sabbah. Collaborative projects include 'Siddhartha' which was in the Dr. Sun Yat-Sen Classical Gardens, and the upcoming Blues Circus with Both Sides of the Coin.

He is currently finishing a followup album to Latest Waking called By the Mountain's Feet. The first single The Apocalypse is Not Guaranteed is slated for release in February 2011. . .
